DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 18 October 2006 has been entered.

Status of Claims

2. Claims 1-4 remain for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no literal support in the specification to amend claimed range of 5-35% Al to 25-35% Al in claim 1. There is no literal support in the specification to amend claimed range of 5-35% Cr to 10-35% Cr in claim 1. There is no literal support in the specification to amend claimed range of 5-35% Cu to 10-35% Cu in claim 1.

Art Unit: 1742

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the English abstract of Japanese patent 411071658 or Japanese patent 358153752.

7. The English abstracts of JP'658 or JP'752, each discloses a multi-component alloy with constituents whose atomic% ranges overlap those recited by the claims; such overlap establishes a prima facie case of obviousness, see MPEP 2144.05. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select the claimed range over the broader prior art range because prior art teaches the same utility and property over the broader range (JP'658, abstract and JP'752, abstract). For instance, JP'658 composition of 10% Cu and of 10% Cr overlap instantly claimed composition of 10% Cu and of 10% Cr. Furthermore, JP'752 composition of $0\% \leq \text{Cu} < 40\%$ overlap instantly claimed composition range of $10\% \leq \text{Cu} \leq 35\%$. To distinguish claims over prior art, applicant will need to demonstrate (e.g. by comparative test data), that the more narrowly claimed ranges are somehow critical and productive of new and unexpected results.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 18 October 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In regards to Applicant's argument that literal support is not required to amend the claims, applicant's attention is directed to In re Wertheim 191 USPQ 90 (CCPA 1976) which states that "When it is clear, for instance, that the broad described range pertains to a different invention than the narrower (and subsumed) claimed range, then the broader range does not describe the narrower range." In the instant case, there is no clear evidence that the narrow claimed range is supported by the broader range described in instant specification. In regards to Applicant's argument that prior art do not overlap the claimed invention, see paragraph 7 above.
